ARRESTS IN BOMBAY AREA TOTAL 430

Police Continue Drive Against All-India National Congress

Bombay, India, Oct. 16.—Police have today arrested and sentenced 40 persons to 250 All-India Congress members, including Asaf Hussain Lali, secretary of the last War Council of the Congress, and son of the president of the Bombay municipality.

Bombay, in the midst of a three-day stoppage of work, saw terms of nine months of rigorous imprisonment imposed upon Lali and several others, and lesser terms given nearly all of the rank and file of the Congress, taken in a raid under the newly-acquired vice-regal powers making such organizations unlawful.

The arrests in the drive of the last two days now total 430.

purpose of the Imperial Economic Conference now in session," he said.

With confidence in one another, belief in the future greatness of Canada, and exact understanding of what each part might do, Premier Bennett believed a great plan of Empire economic co-operation might be made effective.

"It would be strange indeed if it were otherwise," Mr. Bennett said. "We have a common purpose. We have a common will to achieve it. We have so many things that are a common heritage. These things, taken confidently regard as the foundation upon which will be built a new economic structure of Empire, strong with the strength that comes from mutual help and mutual benefit. We are united by a common allegiance to the Crown. We have a full freedom in the conduct of our own affairs. We are heirs to that vast storehouse of experience gained in centuries of world commerce."

COMMON PRINCIPLES

"We each of us acknowledge as sure guides in the conduct of our social and political life those principles of justice and fair dealing which have been the bulwark of Britain's greatness. We acknowledge the wealth of Canada's resources—in its prairies, forests, mines, lake and sea lay in calculable wealth. "It is our resolve also," Premier Bennett said, "to use it wisely, so that happiness and well-being may be a permanent one. If I asked this country to buy our Canadian wheat, which we must sell in the highest and most stable market, and give nothing but thanks in exchange for this service, you would run tire of it. Similarly, if Canada gave you preference for your goods in her market and got nothing but your acknowledgment of this preference in return, I fear it could not long continue."

"But if there is an agreement inspired by sentiment and buttressed by definite and lasting and mutual advantages, then it will not fail, for it will be our common wish and for the benefit of each and all to support and sustain it. Under that agreement each of us will be working primarily and properly in the interests of our respective countries, and that is the only way in which we may continue to promote the prosperity of the Empire as a whole. We would as an initial step safeguard our home markets, reduce to a minimum unemployment. We would then sell in the foreign markets the excess of our products over home consumption. By creating an Empire market for our goods we would not, in my opinion, in any way decrease the foreign market. For successful competition is closely related to the question of production, and, speaking generally, the greater the production the cheaper is the cost of production."

FOREIGN MARKETS

"The Empire market would give us the necessary increase of production to meet world competition and reap the fruits of foreign trade. "It seems to me the British Empire might profitably employ the same principles of development, having due regard to the limitations upon that development imposed by the fundamentally different political and economic constitutions of France and the British Commonwealth. That, however, is a matter which each of us must decide for ourselves," concluded Premier Bennett.

ous rubbish, consisting of many tons of scrap iron, etc., in Mount Douglas Park.

5. That Saanich has been permitted to saw down trees to the extent of several acres of timber, which were neither dead nor a danger to public life—and that this was done with the knowledge of the corporation of the city of Victoria.

6. That the city has permitted Saanich to obliterate part of the Listerian Memorial and to erect new signs, posters, and advertisements on the grounds of Mount Douglas, seventy-five yards distant from the original trail.

7. That the city has permitted a danger to exist by not adequately protecting the public from the risk of falling over the bank of the gravel-pit, which is nearly seventy-five feet high in some places.

8. That the city permitted Saanich to remove trees from the park and that these were sawn into fuel for the schools of Saanich.

9. That Saanich collected certain large sums of money for the sale of sand and gravel from Mount Douglas Park and later shared part of this money with the city.

SECURES INVESTIGATION
Stating that he has definite proof of the above charges, Mr. Graham has filed them in the shape of a statutory declaration with the Attorney-General's Department, and has so far been successful in securing an investigation by the Department of Public Works.

Likewise he has secured an order from the Attorney-General's Department directing that operations on the construction of the proposed new road through the park shall cease.

Construction of this road involves the destruction of no less than from eight to thirty acres of beautiful timber, Mr. Graham declares, and the removal of thousands of cubic yards of sand and gravel.

As a result of representations made by Mr. Graham, through counsel, Claude Harrison, to the city solicitor, the city has ordered Saanich to cease the removal of further gravel from Mount Douglas Park.

"The grossly negligent way in which this beautiful park has been administered, its commercialization and despoilation is disgraceful," Mr. Graham declared to The Times to-day. "There has been more damage done in the last two years than in all the time that has elapsed since 1889 when this park was deeded in trust to the city, and if it continues at the same rate it will only be a few years before the heritage of the general public will cease to be of value."

It is because of wholly inexcusable official indifference to the interests of the general public that I have felt it imperative to take drastic action.

"One has but to motor down any of the public highways to see the devastation wrought in our beautiful forests by modern logging methods," Mr. Graham continued. "Soon there will be little or no privately-owned timber

TRADE PARTY LEAVES B.C. FOR ORIENT

Canadian Commerce Chamber Group to Sail From Here This Evening

J. O. Cameron Joins Delegates Voyaging Aboard Ss. Empress of Russia

Canadian Press

Vancouver, Oct. 16.—A new phase in Canada's attempt to fulfill her destiny on the Pacific opened to-day when the Canadian Chamber of Commerce trade delegation to Japan and China sailed from here aboard the liner Empress of Russia for the Orient. The ship is scheduled to leave Victoria this evening.

Interviewed before departure, John M. Little of Edmonton, chairman of the delegation, made the following statement:

"As chairman of the delegation, my last word before sailing is an appeal to the people of Canada for a sympathetic appreciation both of the purposes of our mission and of its potential results in actual concrete achievement."

FOUR CHIEF PURPOSES

"In so far as our work in the Orient is concerned, we have four main objectives, namely: First, to express the friendliness and goodwill of Canada's business interests; third, to acquire a knowledge of the conditions and trade requirements in the Orient; third, to establish personal contacts with business men there; and, fourth, to promote mutual understanding and confidence in our reciprocal business relations."

"Our mission is an arduous to Canada's richest potential trade field outside of the British Empire and the United States Air Force about five years ago, and since that time had served with the squadron out of San Diego. He had many flying hours to his credit and flew up the coast from his California base to Vancouver in seven hours on Monday. He and his companion crossed from Vancouver to Victoria in thirty minutes in the face of a stiff wind on Tuesday and landed at the Lansdowne Field, their planes remaining there until 8.45 o'clock yesterday morning when the fliers took off in the darkness for their long jaunt which ended in tragedy for the younger one."

NEW IMPORTS BOARDS FOR EMPIRE TRADE DEBATED

Thus consideration, formally, at least, will be deferred until the committee lays down reports on all these supplementary proposals for developing Empire trade, they were suggested by Mr. Graham following Premier Bennett's preference offer and were not in any sense alternative proposals, as he was careful to explain, but represented supplementary suggestions while the preference proposals were being carefully studied by British departmental experts.

FIELD OF MANUFACTURES

The Graham committee is also authorized to report on ways and means of bringing British and Dominion manufacturers together before the conference comes to a close. It is felt by the delegates that much can be done toward development of inter-Empire trade by establishing such industrial relations.

The Bennett preference proposals are being given most thorough examination by British departmental officials and it is expected the British Government's reply will be ready early next week. This announcement will be of the greatest importance and will probably mark a great step in the Empire's economic relations. Once the reply is delivered, future actions will be speedy, whether the reply is favorable or otherwise. Efforts will be made to complete the work of the conference within the next two or three weeks.

NEW EVIDENCE IN WATT CASE IS REJECTED

made on October 2, when counsel applied to present the declarations of other agents as evidence that he could not see the relevancy of such evidence. He declined, however, in the absence of counsel for Watt to make a ruling. The question of practice in other government agencies arose, as pointed out, through a statement of Mr. Manson as counsel for Watt that until last October agents acting as coroners were permitted to take fees. No evidence has been adduced to support it. Watt had claimed no knowledge of the practice in other agencies. Since the first application, the application to adduce new evidence consideration, and his previous opinion had been strengthened. He suggested copies of the correspondence on the subject between counsel should be filed as a matter of record.

FROM SIX AGENTS

The statutory declarations which counsel applied to submit were evidence from six government agents at Williams Lake, Smithers, Vernon, Prince George, Quesnel and Cumberland. These, he said, were the only agents with jurisdiction. Their declarations showed, counsel said, that as civil servants they never made charges for inquests and their commissions of office were the same as that of Watt. He also wished to adduce evidence to show that only one civil servant as distinguished from a government agent received coroners' fees, and that was in the case of a Mr. Whittaker at Chilliwack, who was a coroner and not a full-time civil servant. He received fees for acting as magistrate of the Small Debts Court, and was paid by the Attorney-General's Department for inquests.

Mr. Locke submitted that it was relevant to the inquiry to know what was the practice of other agents.

"Even assuming Watt was not aware of it," questioned the commissioner.

Counsel submitted that the commissioner should consider whether he believed Watt when he said he did not know the practice of other agents.

The commissioner remarked it appeared possible that some coroners who could charge fees had not done so.

Chancellor Bruening, Amid Communist-Fascist Interruptions, Outlines Plans

Canadian Press

Berlin, Oct. 16.—Amid turmoil of Communist interruptions and occasional howls of derision from the fascists, Chancellor Bruening to-day appealed to the German people through the Reichstag, to buck up, swallow the bitter medicine of retrenchment, put their shoulders together and get on with the hard but necessary work of national reconstruction.

"The present crisis demands above all moral strength and courageous co-operation of all who love the Fatherland," he declared as he outlined the Cabinet's programme of financial reform before the Reichstag, and asked for clear and unequivocal support.

Although disturbed by a grave strike among the metal workers, affecting 128,000 workers in Berlin, and with the Communists and fascists in an intensely hostile mood, the Chancellor boldly declared the government would fight with all Parliamentary means for its financial plans.

PORTLAW WINS STAKES TO-DAY AT NEWMARKET

Newmarket, Eng., Oct. 16.—Portlaw, starting favorite at even odds, won the famous Middle Park Stakes by three lengths to-day from the French-bred juvenile Golyescas, with Homer third, another four lengths back. Eight ran in this six-furlong feature, one of the group of great races for two-year-olds that set the Derby favorite for next year.

The betting against Golyescas was two to one and against Homer nine to one.

Portlaw, by Beresford out of Portree, is owned by Sir Abu Bakr Golyescas, a Gainsborough-Zariba colt, owned by Marcel Bousquet, French turf man, and Homer is owned by Anthony de Rothschild.

EX-CONVICT CONFESSES HE KILLED GIRL

Young Woman of Seventeen Lured to Kansas City and Murdered

Kansas City, Oct. 16.—Paul Kauffman, former convict, confessed to police here yesterday he had killed Avis Woolley, seventeen, after luring the girl to Kansas City last August 17 from her home at Webb City, Mo., upon a promise to employ her as a nursemaid. Kauffman said he had strangled her to death with her stockings and buried the body in a pit from which a tree had been removed in Sycamore Park, where human bones were found in a shallow grave last Sunday.

Personal effects worn by the girl when she disappeared the day she arrived in response to newspaper advertisements and correspondence with Kauffman were identified in a telephone conversation with her mother, Mrs. R. E. Corkin.

Kauffman, arrested a few days after Miss Woolley's disappearance, was convicted and sentenced to two years' imprisonment for seduction of a fifteen-year-old girl.

Believing he knew something about Miss Woolley's whereabouts, the county prosecutor refused to allow him to start serving the two-year sentence and questioned him at length about the missing girl.

He then said he had met the girl at the Union Station and accompanied her to a park near the downtown section, where he revealed the promise of employment would not be kept. At that time he told the police he had left the girl alone on a park bench.

Chancellor of Exchequer Voices Hopes For British Revival

London, Oct. 16.—Rt. Hon. Philip Snowden, Chancellor of the exchequer and avowed free trader, yesterday evening expressed at a banquet a feeling of optimism about the future of world trade in general and British trade in particular.

Despite the heavy burden of unemployment, which he said was costing Great Britain about $5,000,000,000 annually, he prophesied a better conclusion for the financial year than had been predicted. He asked Parliament to deal with the cost of the unemployment by putting the insurance fund on an insurance basis.

"I look forward to the time, which I am quite confident will come, when not only the magnitude of the trade of this country, but the magnitude of the trade of the world will be of a volume which we are not able to conceive to-day," he said.

Deprecating the spirit of pessimism in England, the Chancellor said it was a different spirit that had triumphed in the past over difficulties such as those with which the country was faced to-day.

CHANGE IN CENTURY

"A hundred years ago things were quite as bad, or worse than they are to-day," said Mr. Snowden, "but things changed and the next eighty years marked a great period of prosperity and the greatest advance in the history of the century."

"Time will change again. Undoubtedly we are now suffering less than some of the other industrial nations of the world. During the last six months we have maintained a larger proportion of our production than Germany or the United States."

GREY SPEAKS OF BRITISH AND U.S. FRIENDSHIP

London, Oct. 16.—The belief that personal intercourse between Great Britain and the United States is the royal road to a better understanding between the two peoples was expressed at a banquet here yesterday evening by Viscount Grey of Fallodon, veteran British statesman and war-time Foreign Minister.

Addressing the English-Speaking Union, Lord Grey recommended co-operation for the good of the world as the basis for a closer union between the two nations.

"What we have got to recognize is that Americans are Americans," he said. "They are united by patriotism, and the real bond between us is not anything to be found in national origin, but is to be found in the fact that we are both English-speaking nations."

Without Salves or Cutting

Thousands of Pile sufferers have learned that quick and permanent relief can only be accomplished with internal medicine. Neither cutting nor any amount of treatment with ointments and suppositories will remove the cause.

Bad circulation causes piles. There is a complete stagnation of blood in the lower bowel and a weakening of the parts.

Dr. J. S. Leonard, after years of study discovered a vital internal Pile remedy and called his prescription HEM-ROID. He prescribed it for 1,000 patients with the marvelous record of success in 960 cases, and then decided every Pile sufferer should be able to get HEM-ROID from their own drug-gists with a rigid money-back guarantee.

Dr. Leonard's prescription has a wonderful record of success right in this city and McFarlane and Vancouver Drug Stores invites every Pile sufferer to try HEM-ROID and guarantee to refund the purchase price if it does not end all Pile misery. (Adv.)

SEARCHING FOR MAN WHO AIDED BYRD PARTY

New York State Officials Wish to Question C. V. Bob on Company Finances

New York, Oct. 16.—According to Assistant Attorney-General Washburn, Charles V. Bob, missing banker, capitalist and engineer, faces possible arrest unless he returns to New York state to-day or to-morrow. The state wants to question him concerning Metal and Mining Shares Inc. and Rainbow Luminous Products Company.

Washburn said examination of two officials of the Metal and Mining Shares, of which Bob was chairman, had disclosed that a list of stock filed with his office by the corporation showing securities on hand to a value of more than $5,000,000 as of December 31 last had been falsified.

The man questioned, George L. Johnson, president of the firm, and Louis P. Jubien, treasurer, told Washburn, he said, they had signed the report to the bureau of securities without knowledge of its contents. Washburn said filing of false information with his office was a misdemeanor punishable by two years in jail.

TELEPHONE CALL

Meanwhile, the state prosecutor was tracing a telephone call to an official of Metal and Mining Shares by a man who said he was Frederick Russell. Bob's secretary, Russell vanished with the banker.

Bob has been a well-known figure in New York during the last few years. While little is known of his early career, rumor has it he was once an engineer in Guatemala and continued his work in the gold fields of Nevada. He was an aviation enthusiast. He attended a dinner at which it was decided to raise funds for Admiral Byrd's flight to the South Pole and his gifts were larger than those of men whose connection with the biggest industries had been established through many years. Admiral Byrd later named a range of mountains in the Antarctic in his honor.

PROHIBITION REPORT IN U.S. IS AWAITED

Washington, Oct. 16.—Hope for an announcement on prohibition before the election has been abandoned to-day by the Law Enforcement Commission as it has found its task "tremendous" even after digesting the reports of investigators.

After a session yesterday which three members were unable to attend, Chairman Wickersham said an adjournment would be taken on Friday until November 5, the day after the election. At that time, in response to a demand by a group of commission members, prohibition would become the order of business.

While some of the special committee which gathered the facts for the prohibition report are prepared to submit some very definite conclusions, it was agreed after two meetings yesterday that the preliminary work of assembling the data would forestall an immediate decision by the commission on prohibition.

Nevertheless, commission members reported "progress" in their work and there was a general expression from them that everything was in fine ahead harmoniously. There has been no effort so far to line up any group within the commission behind any proposal.

It is unlikely the three unable to attend yesterday, Newton D. Baker of Ohio, Federal Circuit Judge William S. Kenyon of Iowa and Frank J. Loesch of Chicago, will be able to get here before the adjournment this week and for that reason no decisions of importance are expected before then.

Bennett's Trade Plan Disappoints Lord Hailsham

London, Oct. 16.—"I am rather disappointed with the offer made by the Canadian government to our manufacturers," said Lord Hailsham, speaking at a dinner yesterday evening of the preference proposals made by Hon. R. B. Bennett, Canadian Prime Minister.

"But," said the great lawyer, formerly known as Sir Douglas Hogg, "I do not feel it has been put forward as a final offer, but merely as an indication of the lines on which the Canadians are willing to work."

Lord Hailsham expressed the hope that the principle of Imperial preference would be confirmed, without qualification, both by the dominions and Great Britain.

Piles Go Quick

Without Salves or Cutting

Thousands of Pile sufferers have learned that quick and permanent relief can only be accomplished with internal medicine. Neither cutting nor any amount of treatment with ointments and suppositories will remove the cause.

Bad circulation causes piles. There is a complete stagnation of blood in the lower bowel and a weakening of the parts.

Dr. J. S. Leonard, after years of study discovered a vital internal Pile remedy and called his prescription HEM-ROID. He prescribed it for 1,000 patients with the marvelous record of success in 960 cases, and then decided every Pile sufferer should be able to get HEM-ROID from their own drug-gists with a rigid money-back guarantee.

Dr. Leonard's prescription has a wonderful record of success right in this city and McFarlane and Vancouver Drug Stores invites every Pile sufferer to try HEM-ROID and guarantee to refund the purchase price if it does not end all Pile misery. (Adv.)

FIRE HAZARDS TO BE REDUCED

Toronto, Oct. 16.—Plans are being considered by the Ontario government to spend $50,000 of unemployment relief funds in Northern Ontario to reduce fire hazards. Hon. William Finlayson, Minister of Lands and Forests, gave this information to a gathering of district foresters here yesterday.

Many unemployed men would be given work under the scheme, the minister stated. Particular attention would be paid to fire zones near Ontario towns. The $50,000 expenditure might be extended, it was intimated, if the circumstances should warrant it.

Wherever a Tiled-In Tub is desired

To meet all situations where tiled-in bathtubs are desirable, the Crane Tarnia was designed. A fixture of moderate price, it permits a wide latitude in decorative and architectural treatment.

In service, it represents a long advance over old-fashioned claw-footed bulky baths. It is low to make getting in and out easy. Its straight sides and wide flat bottom give extra roominess while eliminating danger of slipping. The broad rim extends over the outer edge of the tile and goes into the wall, leaving no crevices for dirt or water.

It is furnished in three sizes, from five to six feet, for setting in any of five positions; against a wall with both ends free, in a recess, right or left corner, and in the open.

Of lasting enamel-ware, it is supplied in white or in twelve charming colors: orchid pink, India ivory, citrus yellow, pale jade, fern green,

With the TARNIA tub, a wide choice of faucets and fittings is offered.

Nile green, Lucerne blue, Venetian blue, Java tan, sage green, Lisbon blue, black.

Not only in bathtubs but in lavatories and closets, kitchen fixtures, laundry equipment, and valves and fittings, the same exhaustive planning of every detail, that is found in the Tarnia tub, makes a Crane-equipped house a thoroughly modern house.

Newsprint Freight Rate Hearing

Ottawa, Oct. 16.—Adjournment until November 24 was taken by the Board of Railway Commissioners yesterday in connection with the hearing of the suspended increase in newsprint rates which the Canadian railways sought to impose on that commodity, southbound to United States points.

Newsprint manufacturers and users on both sides of the international boundary protested against the proposed increase and had experts in traffic management give testimony to the injury which would affect their various businesses should the new schedule be made effective. On the other hand, the railway companies produced witnesses who sought to prove the new rates were fair and reasonable.

MOUNT DOUGLAS PARK

MOUNT DOUGLAS PARK WAS CON-VEYED TO VICTORIA BY THE PROVINCIAL GOVERN-MENT "upon trust to maintain and preserve same as a public park or pleasure ground for the use, recreation and enjoyment of the public." There is nothing in the conveyance to sanction the creation of an unsightly gravel pit of several acres along the highway,
the destruction of fine timber to the extent of six or seven acres for a road of doubtful value, or the dumping of garbage on the embankment between the highway and the beach, and these operations, therefore,
may properly be held to constitute a violation of the trust.

The gravel pit is a particularly glaring mutilation
of the landscape, and not only should no further degradations be permitted there, but steps should be taken at once to convert this eye-sore into harmony with the surrounding scenery, by growing grass, trees or shrubbery on it. Evidently, when the civic authorities of Victoria gave Saanich municipality permission to use this gravel, they forgot that all this area is a part of a public park which this city is obligated to protect from vandalism of all kinds, and that in no circumstances were they authorized to sanction the exploitation of the locality for commercial purposes. Our information is that the proceeds of the sale of this gravel
were divided between the treasuries of both municipalities. Those proceeds should be devoted now towards the conversion of the pit from an ugly gash in the scenery into something that will harmonize with its setting.

Likewise, no new roads should be driven through the park if their construction involves the destruction of good trees or the impairment of the natural beauty of the area. If short-cuts are needed, trails will be sufficient. The present main road is quite adequate for purposes of traffic—or rather it was until it was roughened by gravel trucks passing over it. It ought to be remembered that this place is a park, not a subdivision, or a source of supply for fuel or building material, or a convenient dumping-ground. In this respect it should be as carefully safeguarded against mutilation as Beacon Hill Park is. The government is to be commended for ordering the stoppage of operations at the gravel pit and on the projected road, and should see that in future the terms of the conveyance of the park to Victoria are strictly observed.

TRADE AMBASSADORS

THE GOOD WISHES OF CANADA WILL accompany the members of the delegation from the Canadian Chamber of Commerce when they leave on their trade mission to the Orient in the Empress of Russia this evening. They will be led by Mr. John Imrie, managing director of The Edmonton Journal, who has been selected as the party's chairman for the tour. Canadian business in general will be well represented—Victoria's delegate is Mr. J. O. Cameron—and high hopes of new markets in China and Japan
eventually are expected to be realized.

At a luncheon meeting of the Vancouver Board of Trade—with which body the idea of the mission originated—Mr. Imrie outlined the principal purposes of the delegation as follows:

To reflect the good-will and friendliness of Canada's business interests toward the Orient.
To acquire knowledge of trade conditions and requirements in the Orient.
To establish personal contacts with business men
in the Orient.

To promote understanding between the business interests of the Orient and those of Canada with a view to the further expansion of trade on a mutually beneficial basis.

In his address Mr. Imrie based his hopes of trade development with the Oriental countries upon the obvious fact that the centre of world trade is shifting from the Atlantic to the Pacific, and that by virtue of her geographical position Canada should take the fullest possible advantage of changing business conditions. He rightly observed that this country's equipment includes a maritime tradition, a trade-adventur-
ing spirit, seaports with great natural advantages,
and almost unequalled wealth and variety of natural resources and industrial possibilities.

In more detailed manner Mr. Imrie discussed the present trading account, particularly between Canada and Japan. He showed that in 1913 Japan's exports to Canada were three times the value of her imports from this country. But for the fiscal year ending last March Canada's exports to Japan exceeded
the value of her imports from that country by no less than $30,000,000. The United States, on the other hand, during the last fiscal year, imported from Japan
goods to the value of $400,000,000 and sold in return $300,000,000 worth. "This comparison," Mr.
Imrie observed, "emphasizes the fact that in the last fiscal year Japan had a favorable trade balance with the United States of $100,000,000 and an adverse trade balance with Canada of $30,000,000. Or, to put the picture on a still larger scale, Canada is presently enjoying one-third of Japan's adverse trade balance of $110,000,000 that represents the difference between Japan's exports of $980,000,000 and her imports of $1,090,000,000."

The departure of this trade delegation marks the substitution of practical policies for not very profitable platitudes. After-dinner speeches about the changing scene of commerce, about the vast potentialities of trade in the Oriental countries, with their teeming millions, are all very well in their way. But business is obtained in this highly-competitive age only by going after it. The Canadian business men who will sail out into the Pacific to-night may not go with order books in their pockets; but, as Mr. Imrie said in Vancouver, they will go "as trade ambassadors in a high spirit of endeavor."

The Canadian Chamber of Commerce is to be congratulated upon its organization of this tour. When the delegates return they should be able to furnish valuable information, the utilization of which should benefit all the industries of this Dominion.

TIMES HAVE CHANGED

LESS THAN FORTY YEARS AGO A cartoon depicted John Bull holding out an empty bag requiring 76,247,516 cwt. of wheat and wheat flour to fill it, which Sir Charles Tupper was vainly trying to fill with 1,361,771 cwt. of these commodities. This was the relative position of the British buyer and Canadian seller at that time.
Conditions are vastly different now. In the crop-year which ended with July of 1929 this country's total exports of wheat and wheat flour amounted approximately to 235,000,000 cwt., while Britain's requirements from all sources did not exceed 125,000,000
cwt. In other words, it required only a little more than half of Canada's exportable surplus to satisfy the demands of the United Kingdom.

Put this point another way. If Canada had the whole of the British market for wheat and wheat flour to herself, she still would have a great deal left over to dispose of elsewhere in competition with Australia, the Argentine, Russia, Germany, and other foreign countries. Yet the plan which Mr. Bennett has proposed at the Imperial Conference, knowing full well that the present government at Westminster at least will fight food taxes to the bitter end, is likely to imperil the business which our grain growers already are doing with the Old Country.

The attitude of the British importer to this question of food supplies took firm root long before Canada
was a factor as a producer—and it will be difficult to change it to our advantage by any form of threat.
True, the British Conservative newspapers are attacking such organizations as the Wholesale Co-operative Society—which divides its profits with its customers—by buying Russian wheat; but this society
replies by saying that "we are a business organization,
like any other; we must buy in the cheapest market,
and we can not ignore what our competitors are doing." The price of Russian wheat in London is about twenty-four to twenty-six shillings a quarter
compared with fine Canadian at twenty-eight and twenty-nine shillings a quarter.

There is no gainsaying the fact that Mr. Bennett has his mandate to bargain with Britain in the matter of trade. Nor will the hard-headed British businessman blame him for putting Canada first. The point upon which there will be serious speculation, however, is whether, if Mr. Bennett insists upon pressing his bargain to the limit, the trade reaction which is almost sure to follow will give this Dominion the worst of the bargain. The Canadian Prime Minister told the conference when he outlined his proposal that the Dominion's prime consideration was a larger market for our wheat in the United Kingdom. But even suppose any British government taxed foreign wheat
—which, of course, it would not—to give Canadian wheat an advantage, how long would such a policy
stand in the face of a certain protest from the Old Country's farmers? They wield a tremendous political influence, and if foreign wheat were taxed, they would insist upon Canadian wheat being taxed also.

Under the old arrangement of the British preference, Canada's trade with Great Britain has grown into a large account with a huge balance in this country's favor. We sell to her several times as much as she sells to us. It will be a thousand pities if policies shall be pursued in the future that will restrict this business.

WHAT OTHER PAPERS SAY

SHOOT BULLETS, NOT THE BULL

The New York Post

The business of electing a new president in a South American republic is fairly simple. A few people get together and cast bullets instead of ballots.

MR. BENNETT'S PLAN

The Toronto Globe

The indisputable fact remains that the proposal to put Canada First, Britain First, Australia First, South Africa
First and each of the others first is not serving the Empire or its interests, and will never bring a Empire development programme. It is a departure from the fundamental principle that strength lies in unity and co-operation. Had Mr. Bennett gone to the Conference to consider the Empire as a unit he would not have proclaimed the doctrine of Canada First as binding and insurmountable. He would not have proclaimed it at all.

Twenty-five Years Ago To-day

The Victoria Daily Times, October 16, 1905

Weather Forecast—Victoria and Vicinity—Light to moderate winds, generally fair and cold at night.

Members of the crew of the C.P.R. steamer
Prince of Wales, which arrived from Skagway on Saturday night, were jubilant over a race which the ship had on her south-bound trip. The steamer sailed from Skagway about ten minutes after the departure of the Dolphin, and seven miles this side of the Lynn Canal port overhauled the latter, passing her at close range. Five leaped from the smokestacks of the American liner from six to ten feet,
but the frantic endeavors of her firemen and engineers to keep the lead were in vain. The steamer was the fastest boat, and soon lost the Dolphin to view astern.

A new light on Laurel Point has been installed
by the B.C. Electric Railway Company at the instance of the Department of Marine and Fisheries, and for the past few days has been doing better service
in the way of illuminating the harbor for navigation purposes.

Lost of bread five cents! The interesting announcement was made this morning by Dixie H.
Rowe & Co., the hatter, the standard size loaves of bread usually retailed for ten cents would be sold for five cents.

Four freight cars were damaged to the extent of a few hundred dollars in a small smash-up on the E. & N. Railway near Mt. Sicker on Saturday afternoon.

Loose Ends

The search for truth goes on—
Someone calls for cash—Mrs.
Glumby diagnoses the world—and
Mr. Potts makes a prophecy.

By H.B.W.

EVERY NEWSPAPER or magazine
that I have seen in the last three months is filled with the final word of great authorities on the present industrial depression of this sorely-tried world. There scarcely exists a financial authority in existence, no matter how humble, who has not given freely of his opinion to the public. There is not a doctor of finance, no matter what his qualifications, and even if he has none, who has not diagnosed our industrial disease and prescribed a remedy.

ODDLY ENOUGH, no two of these opinions, so far as I have been able to discover, agree in any particular. After absorbing all this expert information, the world is exactly where it was before. It knows that it has suffered an awful bump, but it has no idea where it came from. It has no idea, either, when it is going to get over the bump and feel like its gay old self. And until one knows where a bump came from, or when its effects are going to disappear, it is small comfort to know that one has been bumped.

WHAT HAS happened, of course, is very clear, but what made it happen, and what will make it disappear are different matters. What happened was that the world bought more of everything than it could pay for and bought it on credit. The man who sold on credit also operated on credit,
as did the man whom he bought from;
and when you get back to the original producer, the lumberman and the miner, you find that he was buying his needs on credit, too.

THIS WAS fine so long as no one asked for cash. I suppose if no one had asked for cash we could have gone on increasing our purchasing and raising our wages in a never-ending, triumphant circle for ever. Many businesses on this continent, indeed,
were conducted on this very assumption. Then all of a sudden, somewhere in the great jungles of finance,
some obscure person whose name has never been discovered, took a deep breath and shouted, "Cash! I want cash!" And behold, like the walls of Jericho falling before the trumpets of the enemy, the great walls of Wall Street and the whole of the financial structure of our credit system fell flat.
If only that obscure gentleman could have been kept quiet, if only someone had thought to gag him or hit him over the head in time, we should still be wallowing in the great bull market of 1929. But the trouble is that you cannot gag everyone. You cannot go around hitting everyone over the head all the time. Sooner or later in this misguided world someone is bound to come to his senses and cry "Cash!" As a race we are incapable of doing anything permanent.
One of us is sure to wake up suddenly and cry "Cash!" at the least opportunity.

THESE, HOWEVER, are primitive views of a column which knows nothing whatever of business and no more about the present depression than the barons of high finance. You may obtain much more accurate and much more interesting views from half a dozen authorities out of my way.
Thus, if you question old Mrs.
Glumby, as I have done, you will find that the present condition of civilization has a simple cause and a simple cure. The present condition of civilization, says old Mrs. Glumby, is that the price of eggs, of dressed chickens
and fat ducks is too low. As Mrs.
Glumby makes her living raising eggs,
dressed chickens and fat ducks, she ought to know. "Ever time times is 'ard," observed Mrs. Glumby over the back fence near the rhubarb patch
to me this afternoon, "ever time times is 'ard, now, the price of poultry is down. I never knowed it to fall. Minny, if I only 'appened 'to twice you might think it was a haccident, or a cohen's-dence, but it allus 'appens. Why, 'tis as plain as the nose on yer face, man! When eggs and chickens and ducks goes down, times is 'ard. And I reckon I bup, times his gold. And I reckon I should know, 'eem, as I've been a sellin' of 'em thirty years, come next March."

WITH THIS view, profound as it is,
Colonel Montague Foose, who lives up on the hill, is not in agreement. "Why, my dear old fellow," said Colonel Foose to me yesterday, "the trouble is quite obvious, quite, don't you know. The trouble is that people won't work now-a-days as they used to work in my time—what? No, sir, they won't work. They expect to work only eight hours a day and then have money for the movies, and it can't be done—what? They've got to work harder and take less, that's all.
Or what is going to happen to us who own a few stocks and bonds and things? Are we to be ruined simply because people now-a-days won't work, by gad? I tell you, sir, our civilization is trembling on the verge of
—well, on the verge, don't you know,
and people have just got to go back to work." And with this rousing sentiment, Colonel Foose went off to spend the day on the golf links.

OLD BILL POTTS, the wood man, as I have mentioned before, is an amateur astrologer. From the stars he can prophesy the weather and future events with equal accuracy; and you can be confident that anything he prophesies, may possibly happen,
though it is unlikely. Well, Mr. Potts confided in me this week that he had foreseen the present depression for a long time but didn't like to say anything about it, for he figured to run for the municipal council this year and didn't want to appear to be an opponent of gloom. As I understood him, the present difficulty has something to do with an unhelpful association in the heavens between Mars and Uranus, and will not end until these two bodies learn to behave themselves.

I could see little reason in this theory until Mr. Potts explained that the prospects for the winter were very bad; and that a wise man would order
an extra cord or two of wood immediately. This being ordered, Mr. Potts cheered up amazingly and said he thought that perhaps Mars and Uranus would begin to lead respectable lives by spring, when Mr. Potts hopes to get a job as foreman on the roads.

B.C. GOVERNMENT Backache PUTS UP $500,000 FOR RELIEF

Public Works Programmes
Being Worked Out By Province With Municipalities

Appropriation of $500,000 by the British Columbia Government by special warrant to finance the beginning of work under the Federal unemployment aid scheme was announced today by Premier Tolmie.

Premier Tolmie also signed the agreement on behalf of B.C. with the Federal Department of Public Works at Ottawa whereby $500,000 of funds can be drawn upon for use in B.C. for relief programmes, subject to the schedules or rates between the province and municipalities.

Co-ordination of municipal works programmes under agreement between the province and each municipality is now being undertaken by Hon. N. S. Loughheed, Minister of Public Works.

The Provincial Government will also initiate a programme of work of its own for relief in various parts of the province.

Relief work has been started in Victoria with repairs to Graham Street and Richmond Road, with sixty per cent going to the city and the remainder covered by the agreement with the government.

APPEAL ON JUDGMENT FOR $5,000 FAILS

Vancouver, Oct. 16.—Sustaining a judgment given in the British Columbia Supreme Court by Mr. Justice D. A. McDonald, the Court of Appeal has dismissed an appeal of John Marshall Young, Oak Bay, B.C.

The plaintiff-respondents, Herbert James Beale, retired, and James McQuarrie Murray, merchant, both of Victoria, succeeded in a claim against Young for rescission of a contract whereby they had purchased the goodwill and business of the Glycine-Pumice Soap Co. Limited, Victoria, for $12,500.

The business, according to the plaintiffs, had been misrepresented to them. Under the judgment of Mr. Justice McDonald, the plaintiffs recovered $5,000, which they had paid, together with interest. The judge made an order rescinding the purchase contract.

HUNTERS TRAIL COUGAR FIFTEEN MILES IN BUSH

One of the largest male cougars shot in Metochin district in recent years was killed at daybreak, yesterday at East Sooke, after being trailed through the night by James Wainey, Guy Pease, Gordon Weir and a team of experienced cougar dogs.

The animal was seen by Mr. Pease at 8 o'clock on Tuesday evening on the Sooke Road near the Reid property in Metochin. When trailed the cougar refused to take to a tree and travelled fifteen miles through the bush. The hunter's clothing was torn almost to pieces during their passage through the bush, which was facilitated by the use of electric torches.

The cougar had caused much damage during the last six weeks, many sheep having been slain among the flocks owned by Messrs. Herbert Parker, Miller, Thorntree and Fergus Reid.

CANDIDATE NOMINATED

North Bay, Ont., Oct. 16.—Nipissing Liberals yesterday evening nominated J. H. Marceau of North Bay as their candidate in the forthcoming provincial by-election. He will oppose C. E. Harrison, North Bay, Conservative nominee. Mr. Marceau represented the riding in the Provincial Legislature during the Drury regime.

APPEAL AGAINST TAX ACT FAILS

Ottawa, Oct. 16.—The appeal of the Canadian Utilities Limited from a judgment confirming an assessment by the town of Strathburg, Saskatchewan, was dismissed by the Supreme Court of Canada yesterday. The appeal was regarded as a test case affecting the operation of the Town Act of Saskatchewan.

The company purchased an electric power system from the town and supplied the town with power from its plant at Nokomis. The town assessed the company's pole line at $3,000 and its franchise at $7,000. The assessment was confirmed by the Court of Revision and the Saskatchewan Assessment Commission.

15,000 DEMAND SARGON DAILY

Vast Growing Army of Sargon Users, Marching Single File, Would Encircle Globe in Only Few Years Time

BY RICHARD L. SIMMS

ATLANTA, Ga.—More like a tale from the Arabian Nights of old than a record of modern business achievement reads the story of the marvelous growth and development of Sargon, the New Scientific Compound, which has become the sensation of the drug trade throughout Canada, the United States and other countries.

The old illustration of the pebble dropped into the pool best describes the phenomenal and unprecedented demand and its fame is rapidly spreading over the entire Continent.

Recently compiled figures reveal that approximately 15,000 men and women are marching into the drug stores daily for Sargon and Sargon Soft Mass Pills, the marvelous new treatment that is restoring health to countless thousands by new and remarkable methods undreamed of only a few years ago.

Already more than 5,000,000 suffering men and women have put it to the test, and have told other millions what it has done for them.

Marching in regulation army fashion single file—this vast army of Sargon users would reach from New York to San Francisco, and at the present rate of sale—would, in a few years' time, encircle the entire globe.

The only explanation of Sargon's triumph in the Medical World is Sargon's true worth. Back of its triumph in the drug stores is its triumph in the homes, and it is the grateful endorsements of its millions of users that has made it the most widely talked of medicine in the world today.

Sargon is extensively advertised, it is true, but no preparation, no matter how extensively advertised, could possibly meet with such phenomenal success unless it possessed absolute merit and extraordinary powers as a medicine.

There can be but one possible explanation for Sargon's amazing success, and it can be told in one word—MERIT!

Sargon may be obtained in Victoria and Vancouver from all Owl Drug Stores; in New Westminster from the Bews Drug Company; in Esquimalt from Fulmer's Drug Store; in Oak Bay from Charles Hudson. (Adv.)

World-famous Golf Pros May Play In Open Tournament Here

THE SPORTS MIRROR

It is interesting to note the latest trades engineered by several of the major league baseball magnates in an effort to bolster up their respective teams for next season. It is not surprising that Lefty O'Doul and Fresno Thompson will become members of the Brooklyn Robins as the deal was forecasted some weeks ago. The principal "surprise" in connection with the deal was the trading of "Jumbo" Jim Elliott, a huge and capable pitcher to the Philadelphia club, as part payment for O'Doul and Thompson. The Phillies expect Elliott to help solve their hurling problems.

O'Doul was bought by the National League in batting last season, hitting .383 to finish right behind Terry of the New York Giants. Herman of Brooklyn and Klein of the Chicago Cubs extra base wallops included twenty-two home runs. He is thirty-three years old and has been a member of the New York Yankees, Boston Red Sox, Chicago Cubs and New York Giants in the course of his career.

Thompson batted .300 and fielded brilliantly. The Alabamian is twenty-seven years old and has been the regular second baseman for the Phillies for the last four years. Elliott this season won ten games and lost seven for an average of .588. Cliff Dudley, who also went to the Phillies, won two and lost four. Lee, the third player sent to the Philadelphia club played in twenty-two games for Brooklyn this year, batting .162.

In bringing players Schumacher and McAfee to Boston, the Braves continued their policy of obtaining likely youngsters. Boston arranged the deal jointly between the Los Angeles club and the Chicago Cubs, the former club being owned by the Cubs. The Braves secured McAfee from Chicago and in exchange sent Bob Smith and Les Wells to Los Angeles. Schumacher hit for .387 last year, while McAfee, who was with the Reading International League Club, won six and lost seven games.

It was the second triangular deal involving Boston and Los Angeles in as many seasons. Last year the Braves got Wally Berger, their home run sensation, from the coast team, a piece of strategy credited with having much to do with extricating the team from its traditional place in the cellar.

Crafty Connie Smythe, who paid $45,000 to the Ottawa club for Frank "King" Clancy, perfect defense player, allowed the Toronto fans to decide whether or not the Leafs would obtain Clancy. Smythe ran an ad in the newspapers asking the fans to send in their opinions of the deal and the result was an overwhelming vote in favor of getting the Ottawa star.

There is not a club in the National Hockey League that would not like to have Clancy on its roster, but very few of them were in a position to enter the field for his services when the Ottawa Hockey Association announced he was on the market and would be sold to the highest bidder. Then there was, of course, an upset price set by the Ottawa club and very few could even think of getting Clancy, let alone get in a bid for him.

There is another angle to the case and one of vast importance. Ottawa is the smallest city in the National Hockey League in population, although the largest in terms of hockey players is concerned. The Ottawa team for several seasons has been operated at a financial loss and this condition cannot continue. If the Capital City is to remain in the N.H.L. it is obvious the club which is developing hockey stars must sell them in the game. With Alex. Smith, Harold Starr and Allan Shields, the Ottawa club is still well fortified with defence players.

Effort Being Made to Hold Tournament Early Next Month; Bob Harlow, Head of Tournament Bureau of P.G.A., Expected to Reach City To-day or Tomorrow to Discuss Plans; Will Interview Victoria Chamber of Commerce; $3,000 Tournament Being Arranged in Vancouver.

There is a possibility that Victoria will next month stage an open tournament for golf professionals. Phil Taylor, pro at the Victoria Golf Club, announced this morning that he had received word from Bob Harlow, former manager of Walter Hagen and the present manager of the tournament bureau of the Professional Golfers Association of America, regarding the holding of such a tournament here. Harlow arrived in Vancouver on Tuesday night and is expected to reach Victoria either to-day or to-morrow to discuss the plans for the event.

MEDALIST IN "B" CLASS IS VANQUISHED

Mary Campbell Defeated By Mrs. Alex Scott in Second Round at Victoria Golf Club

Semi-finals in "A" and "B" Classes Being Played To-day; Close Matches Expected

Yesterday's play in the second round of the Victoria Golf Club's "B" class championship saw the defeat of Mary Campbell, the medalist, at the hands of Mrs. Alex Scott. It was the day's greatest upset, for the loser had played consistent golf in her medal-winning round and in her first round match, which she won with ease. Victory for Mrs. Scott came at the sixteenth green by a score of 3 and 2.

Mrs. Scott, whose win establishes her as favorite for the title, will play in her next round Miss Fitz-Gibbon, who yesterday put out Mrs. A. D. King 3 and 1. The other semi-finalists are Miss Helen Wilson and Mrs. H. A. Ross. The former defeated Mrs. Gamble, 4 and 2, and the latter triumphed over Mrs. Pangman, 7 and 2. No less than three of these matches ended on the sixteenth green, and the other went but one hole further.

WINS THIRD FLIGHT

The third flight championship was won yesterday by Miss Crump, who beat Mrs. W. T. Williams, 4 and 3. The closest match of the day took place in the second round of the second flight. Mrs. Goward defeated Mrs. Squire at the nineteenth.

"B" CLASS

Mrs. Alex. Scott defeated Miss M. Campbell, 3 and 2. Miss Fitz-Gibbon defeated Mrs. A. D. King, 3 and 1. Miss H. Wilson defeated Mrs. Gamble, 4 and 2. Mrs. H. A. Ross defeated Mrs. Pangman, 7 and 2.

FIRST FLIGHT

Miss D. Scott won from Mrs. Carmichael, by default, 4 and 3. Miss Irving defeated Miss McCulloch, 2 and 1. Mrs. Settle defeated Mrs. Unsworth, 5 and 3. Mrs. Mitchell defeated Miss Forman, 4 and 3.

SECOND FLIGHT

Mrs. Goward defeated Mrs. Squire, at nineteenth. Mrs. Hyndman defeated Mrs. Paul, 1 up.

ARCADE TENPIN LEAGUE TO OPEN PLAY TO-NIGHT

Mayor Anson and J. L. Tait will split the first pins of the season in the Arcade Tenpin Bowling League this evening at 8 o'clock, when they open play between the Jokers and The Colonel at the Arcade Alley.

Following are the players who will compete in the first game: Colonels—D. Clarke, Charlie Chisholm, Frank Moore, Jack Matson, A. G. Hawkins and Dave Fairall. Jokers—Johnny Quinn, Art Porter, Reg Johnson, Harry Moulton, Alex. Potts and Johnny Leatham.

Basketball Dance

The Knights of Pythias basketball team will hold their first dance of the year on the new floor at the K. of P. this evening. Charlie Hunt's orchestra will provide the music and a good crowd is expected.

Phil stated this morning that the question of such a tournament will be taken up with the Victoria Chamber of Commerce and every effort made to arrange the event early next month. According to present plans a $3,000 open tourney will be held on one of the Vancouver courses on Monday and Tuesday, November 10 and 11. If the Victoria competition is arranged it will more than likely be staged the week previous to the Vancouver event or the week after.

WOULD ADVERTISE CITY

Taylor stated it would not take a great deal of organizing to arrange the event. He pointed to the great amount of publicity the capital would receive if such an event were held. The pros would be charged an entrance fee while an admission charge would be made to all the matches and in this manner the tournament would in all probability pay for itself.

Los Angeles stages a $10,000 tournament every year but look at the publicity that city receives during the play. Taylor said. "If Los Angeles had to pay for that same publicity it would cost them over a million dollars."

The tournament would be another of the string being arranged for the benefit of United States professionals which will tour the Pacific Coast this winter. The eastern pros will participate in the Salt Lake City open on October 20 and 21. From there they will go to Spokane for a sectional event on November 1 and 2. Following this they will participate in tournaments in Seattle and Tacoma prior to their expected appearance at Vancouver and possibly Victoria.

FAMOUS STARS WOULD PLAY

Such a tournament would draw an entry list of some of the most famous golf pros in the United States besides the usual number of competitors from Victoria, Vancouver, Seattle and other points in the Pacific Northwest. Among the pros who would play here would be: Tommy Armour, Professional Golfers Association champion; Horton Smith, Abe Espinosa, Walter Hagen, "Light Horse" Harry Cooper and George Von Elm.

Manufacturers' Tenpin League Is Organized

With J. Parfitt as president, R. L. Challenor, vice-president, and J. Sinclair, secretary-treasurer, the Manufacturers' Tenpin Bowling League made preparations for a busy season at its meeting in Kent's Music Store yesterday evening. The group of teams showed every Friday from 7 until 9 o'clock at the Olympic Recreation Alley, and will include representatives of Parfitt Brothers, Victoria Paper Box Company, Western Steel Products, Sidney Roosting (two teams), Holcom Packing Company, Daniel Box Factory, Wilbur Lummer, Hikers Manufacturing and Ormond's Limited.

STILL ANOTHER NEW GOLF GAME STARTED HERE

"Snooker" Golf Has Been Introduced By Local Y.M.C.A.

Still another golf game, this time the "snooker" variety, played in an odd corner of a hotel rotunda or any other building with fairly large floor space, has been introduced in Victoria. This evening the Y.M.C.A. will have the first "course" of its kind in the city. It was announced by Walter S. Maguire, general secretary, this morning.

The "course," similar to a billiard table, has corner and centre pockets. A floor space of about twenty by ten or twelve feet is used. This is banked by a four-by-four rail in which are openings for the pockets. The game is played with golf balls and various clubs and observes the rule of "snooker."

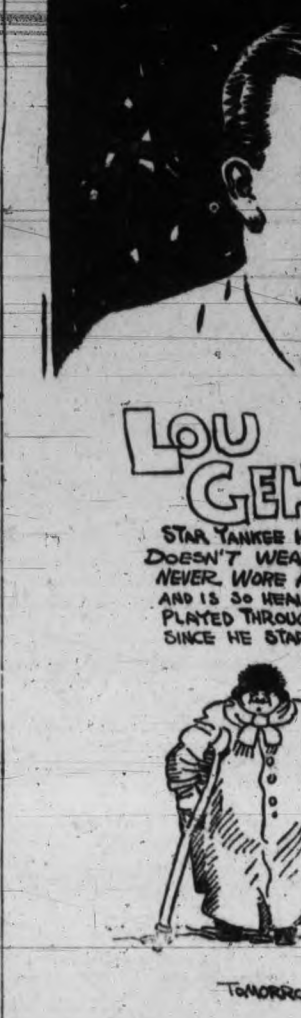

Members of the staff are now spending their spare moments figuring out ways and means of making the game more difficult.

CALGARY WIN AND LEAD IN RUGBY LEAGUE

Tigers Smash Through to 10 to 6 Victory Over University of Alberta

Gerlitz, Thompson and Ferguson Are Stars in Match on Frozen Gridiron

Calgary, Oct. 15.—Full of justified confidence, Calgary Tigers outplayed the University of Alberta squad to score a 10-6 victory at Hillhurst Park yesterday afternoon. The result places the Bengals back in the lead of the Alberta Rugby Union.

Less than 500 enthusiasts braved the chilly weather to witness the game, which was played on a frozen gridiron. The Tigers played their amateur rugby of the season, particularly during the second half, when they penned the students in their own half of the field so constantly that they never had a chance for a point.

ONE-SIDED GAME

The game was much more one-sided than the score indicates, as Tigers by a series of sensational plunges by Gerlitz, Thompson and Ferguson, combined by remarkable forward passes hurled by Jenkins, to Johnson, carried the ball to their opponents' one-yard line in the third quarter and again in the fourth. However, they failed to penetrate the variety line either time on three downs.

The two touchdowns registered were the result of fumbles by McKinnon and Ivan Smith. Bob Hall kicked five of Calgary's singles, while Ivan Smith punted once to the deadline for variety.

SUMMARY OF POINTS

First quarter: Tigers—Kick for rouge (Hall) 1. Tigers—Touchdown (Shandro) 5. Second quarter: Tigers—Touchdown (Gerlitz) 5. Tigers—Kick into touch (Hall) 1. Third quarter—No score. Fourth quarter: Tigers kick for rouge (Hall) 1. Tigers kick for rouge (Hall) 1. Tigers kick into touch (Hall) 1. Final score: Calgary 10, Edmonton 6.

The teams follow: Calgary: Hall, Nicol, Johnson, Jenkins, halfbacks; McKinnon, quarter; McDonald, snap; Lewis, Scott, inside; Ferguson, Thompson, Middles; Gleason, outside; outside; Christie, Holmes, Gerlitz, Friend, Vokes, Harrison and McConnell, subs.

Helen Hicks Shoots Par Rending Golf to Reach Quarter-finals

Nineteen-year-old New York Star's Brilliant Play Features U.S. Women's Golf Championship at Los Angeles; Is Six Strokes Under Women's Par and Defeats Barbara Lee, 8 and 7; Glenna Collett and Mrs. O. S. Hill Advance; Virginia Van Wie Defeats Marion Hollins, Former Titleholder.

By PAUL ZIMMERMAN

Los Angeles, Oct. 15.—The par-reading play of Miss Helen Hicks, feature of the first three days in the women's national golf tournament, to-day carried her into the hazard-hampered quarter-finals to meet the runner-up to the 1929 title, Mrs. Leona Pressler. The momentum of this nineteen-year-old Inwood, N.Y., girl's self-made game sent her over the most difficult course ever meted out in the thirty-four years of the classic yesterday at a dazzling pace, which brought defeat to Miss Barbara Lee, Oakland, California, 8 and 7. She was six strokes under women's par for the eleven holes.

Miss Hicks had a 36 on the strenuous out nine, one under perfect score for men, and three under women's par. Then, to make her game more impressive, she took a biggie on the tenth, her fourth of the round, and won the match with an eagle two, after driving her tee shot 225 yards, three feet from the pin.

This followed a qualifying card of 80, one under standard figures, Monday, which put her in second place, and a potential 77 Tuesday, when she defeated Miss Lucille De Long, Coronado, Cal., 3 and 1, in the first round of match play.

MRS. PRESSLER WINS

Mrs. Pressler, from San Gabriel, and the Pacific Coast's outstanding hope for its first women's championship, also was well up on her game yesterday, winning from Miss Hermine Wacker, Burlingame, Cal., 3 and 4, after touring the first nine in even par.

Scarcely less spectacular will be the match between Mrs. Opals S. Hill, medalist from Kansas City, and Miss Maureen O'Connell, Haworth, N.J., 4 and 3.

The only other former champion, out of the defender, Miss Glenna Collett, was also thrust aside by one of the younger contenders when Miss Virginia Van Wie defeated Miss Marion Hollins, Santa Cruz, Cal., oil queen of the Kettleman Hills district, 3 and 2. Both Miss Hollins, a title winner in 1921, and Mrs. Hurd, were badly off their game.

Miss Van Wie meets Mrs. Roy Green of Culver City, Cal., to-day in a match which is favored to win. Mrs. Green disposed of a local rival, Mrs. Gregg after, Los Angeles, former California champion, 6 and 4.

The other dual of the quarter finals favors the great Glenna, four times a champion, to win out over a fellow stateswoman, Miss Peggy Wattles, Buffalo.

Local Hoop Teams To Open Traveling Season To-morrow

Knights of Pythias and Blue Ribbon Girls Will Usher in Season at Duncan; Hudson's Bay Women, Fountains and The Times Will Travel to Keating.

Victoria hoop teams will open their traveling season for exhibition games to-morrow night, when two teams journey to Duncan and three play at the Association Hall in Saanich. Blue Ribbon, B.C. Senior B women champions, and Knights of Pythias will hook up with the Up-landers in the opening games of the year in Duncan, while Hudson's Bay women, Fountain Service Station and The Times will play the Keating fives.

The two games at Duncan should provide plenty of good basketball. Last year the Blue Ribbon, who were performing under the name of Red Birds, defeated Duncan in the semi-final of the Island championships, and Ed. Evans and his team are still looking for revenge. Also Maine will take his regular team for the battle and is expected to start Ruby Bethel and Beria Feden at forward with Jessie Edwards at center. Bids, Borden and Dot Lea will look after the opposing forwards. In addition to this five, Alex will have Torie Rennie, Mary Wilson and Cay Albertson ready for service.

KNIGHTS WELL BALANCED

The Knights of Pythias who will travel with the Duncan seniors have a well-balanced team of youngsters, with three having had senior "A" experience. The Knights are performing in the intermediate "A" division this year, but feel sure they will be able to give the Duncan seniors men a good game. Alec Cudlip, Curly MacDonald and Jack Coddell form the front line, with Harold Sheppard and Tommy Forbes the two centres. Darrel Bissell, Buzz Brown and Colin McKenzie will try and stop Rupert MacDonald and his fast-stepping Duncan forwards.

With both local teams in good shape the Up-landers will have to be at their best to cop the laurels.

FEATURE GAME

At Keating the suburbanites will get their first test of the year against local fives, with The Times playing the feature game against the Keating seniors five. The newbies will have Claude Bell, Ken Webster, Alf Foubister and Arnold Taylor on the team, while Clarence Mitchell and Louis Prior will play guards.

In the women's game Dick Eaton will take his Hudson's Bay team out to the home team looks too strong for the locals. Keating have gathered together two of their own players to carry their colors this year and the team looks to be the pick of the "C" division.

"In another men's game the Fountains will mix with the Keating seniors for "C" team and a great game is looked for. The Fountains are reported to be strong, but they will have all they can handle in Ray Kersey and his boys.

The first game at Duncan will open at 8 o'clock with the women's teams taking the floor, while at the same time the women will open the proceedings at Keating.

BILLIARDS

Army and Navy "B" Pro Patria "B" and T.V.A. "C" teams scored victories in the first games on the Interservice Club tournament held at the various club-rooms yesterday evening.

Pro Patrias scored a 554-490 victory over the Veterans of France in the "B" team and the T.V.A. "C" team, the "D" team from the Army and Navy Club in a "C" division fixture by a 337-322 count.

Outstanding Regina Junior Hockey Player to Try Out With New York Club

Regina, Oct. 15.—Gordon Pettinger, stellar local hockey star, stated here that he will report to the New York Rangers for training in Toronto shortly. It is said that Pettinger originally signed with Frank Patrick of the Pacific Coast League, and following this was signed to a Ranger contract by Bill Cook, Ranger right winger.

Pettinger's name had been placed on the Ranger negotiation list over a year ago, but Lester Patrick, it is alleged, opposed his being signed. Then brother Frank stepped in, as it was his right to do, owing to the fact that minor league clubs are not bound to honor National League negotiation list, and Pettinger appeared to be headed for Vancouver.

OUTSTANDING PLAYER

Pettinger, whose brother Eric was recently sent to Ottawa in the deal that took Frank (King) Clancy to the Maple Leafs, is rated here as one of the greatest defence players who has graduated from junior ranks in many years. He is still eligible at that for the lower series. Pettinger is a whirlwind skater, who plays much after the style of "King" Clancy, and he has been the outstanding star for the Regina Patricias, champions of Canada, for the last two years.

It was Los Angeles' second straight victory in the final series of the season.

Every man in the Angel line-up scored at least one run, and Parker, second baseman, led the scoring with four. Hank Hulvey was charged with the defeat. He allowed 14 runs in the seven innings he was on the mound. John Moore, Arnold Stata and Ray Jacobson of the Angels hit homers.

Winged Wheelers By JIMMY THOMPSON

SOME SAY HUCK'S LEGS HAVE GONE BACK ON HIM

Saturday afternoon will see the second round of the eastern grid season, with both big groups going in on high. Most sporting writers can't resist the temptation of putting their finger in the pie in trying to call the winners of the coming games, so that we might just as well get our own feet wet now. Queen's meet McGill in their own backyard but even then it looks like a tricolor event. At Toronto, Western University meets the University of Toronto. Everyone in Toronto with the exception of the Rah Rah boys at Varsity will be pulling for the newcomers in the intercollegiate group, and they will probably need it. At Hamilton the man-eating Tigers will entertain the gallant carmen of the Argonauts. At Ottawa the Winged Wheelers on Montreal will probably have all they can do to get an even break. Things apparently are by no means as rosy as they looked around the M.A.A.A. camp a few weeks ago for it is definitely known that Huck Welch's knee is giving him trouble. There is no telling when Gordon Perry will be able to get back in the game with that sprained ankle of his. Those who take their rugby seriously will probably recall that Mike Rodden has never allowed his players to tackle Welch during their practice workouts. Another thing. During a game it was always patent that the Hamilton players afforded the best possible protection to Welch. This goes to show that the Mike realized the danger of losing one of the greatest punters of the day. There is little doubt that Huck Welch's move will make him one of the great figures of the game, provided that somebody doesn't lean on that prop of his.

When You Have to Play a Pitch Shot Without Run, Out Under Ball With Clean, Gripping Contact

Just before the National open began at Interlachen a few weeks ago, I observed Bobby Jones practicing short pitches to the green from rough grass. It so happened that Bobby had a fairly strong wind at his back, but in spite of that, his shots were dropping almost dead where they struck the green.

While I prefer to play a pitch-and-run shot wherever possible, there are times when a ball must be dropped to the green without a run. On those occasions the ball must be given backspin so that it will bite into the green and stop with only a short roll.

Jones made no attempt to strike downward on the back of the ball. He used a well-lofted club and obtained a clean, gripping contact between the club and club simply by cutting under the ball.

Wind at the player's back will have less effect on a low-played shot of this nature than it will on a high one. When the "all is lofted high, the wind causes it to be carried forward so that the backspin does not retard the roll in the least.

FOUR TEAMS TO PLAY IN RUGBY LOOP

Intermediates to Swing Into Action With Games on Oct. 25; Schedule Announced

Victoria College Reported Strong; Will Play Brentwood in Exhibition

Four teams, the Wanderers, Canadian Scottish, Victoria College and J.B.A.A. will swing into action in the first half of the intermediate rugby league on October 25, according to the schedule for the first half of play announced this morning.

Each team will play six games, meeting each team in the loop twice. The league this year will not include the Y.M.C.A. or the University School, it is understood.

Victoria College, crack fifteen, which has been dominating the league for the last two or three years, will clash with the J.B.A.A., while the Wanderers will meet the Scottish.

College is reported to be fairly strong and will test out its team play in an exhibition game against Brentwood College on Saturday. The Craigdarroch boys have several good individual players on the squad, but how they will work as a fifteen is not yet known.

However, they are expected to have little difficulty in retaining the championship they have held for several years.

Little is known regarding the personnel of the other squads, but they are expected to put up gallant fights throughout the entire league.

The schedule follows:

October 25.—Wanderers vs. Canadian Scottish, Victoria College vs. J.B.A.A.

November 1.—Victoria College vs. Wanderers, Canadian Scottish vs. J.B.A.A.

November 8.—Wanderers vs. J.B.A.A., Canadian Scottish vs. Victoria College.

November 15.—Wanderers vs. Canadian Scottish, Victoria College vs. J.B.A.A.

November 22.—Victoria College vs. Wanderers, Canadian Scottish vs. J.B.A.A.

November 29.—Wanderers vs. J.B.A.A., Canadian Scottish vs. Victoria College.

JUNIOR GIRLS' SWIMMING CLUB PLANNED AT "Y"

Local Association Will Develop Talent of Young Victoria Mermaids

Make Plans For Annual Gala; Oregon "Aggies" May Come Here in February

Taking another forward stroke in the swimming line, the Y.M.C.A. club yesterday evening decided to inaugurate a junior girls' division to develop the talent of young swimmers not old enough or sufficiently proficient to take part in the activities of the senior club.

Some time ago the association started a junior boys' group and a series of tests which the youngsters must pass before they are admitted to the higher company, has been drawn up. A similar system is expected to be followed with regard to the new group.

Decision to start the junior girls' club was made following comment on the showing of several youngsters at the recent school children's gala.

During the meeting yesterday evening the club further considered the association's gala at which the 100-yard men's back stroke, men's fancy diving and women's 100-yard breast stroke will be staged. Word from Vancouver announced to the local club that if any swimmers or divers were expected from that city, the event would have to be held on a Saturday evening.

The club decided to interview A. H. Cowlishaw, manager of the Crystal Garden, to secure a date close to November 23.

A letter from the Oregon Agricultural College, the institution which last year sent an aquatic team to Victoria and Vancouver, stated that it would like to send its team here again this winter. If plans carried through, the college hoped to be in Victoria for a meet sometime in February.

... "I recommend the daily use of Palmolive Soap as the most successful home method of retaining beauty"

says WILLIAM MIRBACH

Noted Ottawa Beauty Specialist

"The smartest women of Ottawa are patrons of my beauty salon. They come here for beauty advice that gives real results. One of the things that they learn the first time they seek my advice is the importance of foundation cleansing of the skin. They are asked to wash the face clean with Palmolive Soap. There is no other way that thorough cleansing can be assured, but soap."

Wm. Mirbach
MIRBACH'S BEAUTY PARLOR
OTTAWA

To the smart women who come to my shop for my exclusive beauty treatments, I recommend the daily use of Palmolive Soap as the most successful home method of retaining beauty," says this leading beauty expert. "I have found that Palmolive lather is as gentle as it is effective. The palm and olive oils in this soap penetrate the pores without injury to the skin, and keep the skin in perfect condition for my beauty treatments."

Beware of Irritation

So many soaps irritate while they cleanse. They are apt to roughen the texture of the skin and spoil its delicate coloring. Palmolive is a pure vegetable oil soap. Its color, its odor, its very feeling is that of nature's great cosmetic oils. It cleanses safely, beautifies easily.

Today 23,720 outstanding beauty experts endorse the use of Palmolive Soap. Here is the simple home treatment on which they all agree:

Massage a bland lather of Palmolive Soap and warm water gently into the skin, letting the lather get deep into every tiny pore. Then rinse away soap, dirt, and make-up with warm water, finally with cold, and you'll find your skin is wonderfully soft and smooth.

You will like Palmolive. You will soon be using it for the bath, too; since it costs no more than quite ordinary soaps. Follow the advice of William Mirbach. Begin this very day.

CHILD'S IMITATIONS OFTEN HUMILIATING

Children are little copies of those about them, often very accurate and disturbing copies. The child who shrieks at her naughty doll and pounds it with sticks, has been shrieking at and paddled. The voices of children and their parents are wonderfully alike, even in their subtle inflections.

"Oh, my dear Mrs. Howell," says the young hopeful with exaggerated hospitality, "Do come in and sit down. I have only a very plain lunch this noon but I shall be so happy to have you join me."

Or likewise to her small brother, "Put that picture book down this very instant minute. How dare you touch my things, you naughty, naughty boy!"

Parents are inclined to wonder audibly, "Now where did that come from?" And they may add aloud, "You oughtn't to talk that way to your sweet little brother." But their wonderment arises only because they do not listen to themselves. They are not self-conscious about their voices or words and do not realize how they impress the child. When a like occasion crops up the child gives a perfect imitation of them which is both founding and embarrassing.

Mothers are sometimes unaware that their hands are rough and heavy on the child. They jerk off clothes and pull at shoes and stockings. They dump the child in the tub, despite his indignant yells. Then they wonder why

ARABIAN NIGHTS DANCE SUCCESS

H.M.S. Resolution Chapter I.O.D.E. Hostesses at Shrine Hall Yesterday Evening

Impetus to the chapter's work in assisting the Red Cross nursing outpost at the Peace River was given through the medium of the delightful dance held in the Shrine auditorium yesterday evening under the auspices of H.M.S. Resolution Chapter I.O.D.E. Mrs. Sydney Oliver, vice-regent, and Mrs. Gordon Cameron were the general conveners of the affair which assumed an "Arabian Nights" character, the eastern decorations of the hall providing an appropriate background.

DANCING PROGRAMME

Dancing was enjoyed to the strains of a four-piece orchestra, and diversion was afforded by a programme which included a graceful dance, "Adagio," by Miss Naomi Taylor and her partner, Martinus, a Norwegian dancer of great ability. Mrs. Dorothy Wilson's pupils, Ruth de Gruchy, Doreen Wilson, Dorothy Freeman and Helen Ross, gave an attractive Arabian dance, and Frances Oldham appeared in an acrobatic dance, each number being received enthusiastically by the guests. Sydney Oliver sang two numbers, "Coralline," from "Chu Chin Chow," and "Salsam," with excellent effect.

Miss Irene Ross and W. T. Sturmer were at the door, appropriately garbed in eastern costumes. Supper was served in the lower banquet hall in a setting suggestive of an oasis in the desert.

MANY GUESTS

Among the many guests were: Dr. and Mrs. Gordon Kenning, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Farrow, Miss Una Robertson, Desmond Patterson, Miss Wynne Shaw, the child in the tub, despite his indignant yells. Then they wonder why

There's Lovely New English Ware

In every "chinaware" package of Quick Quaker Oats

Pretty colors and the new irregular borders which every woman wants

You get the prettiest chinaware as well as the best flavored oats in packages of Quick Quaker Oats marked "chinaware." Buy just one package and compare.

A piece of genuine English chinaware in every package. Prettily colored with a flowered design and every piece in old ivory tint and with the new irregular borders every woman wants now.

There is no flavor in oats to compare with Quaker. It is different from mere oatmeal... better, because of the exclusive Quaker milling process. Quaker selects only the plump, firm full-flavored oats, then roasts them to a succulent, flaky tenderness. Then rolls them thin. Only roasting will give the zesty, nut-like flavor which makes Quaker Oats better tasting than any other. Quick Quaker cooks ready to serve in 2½ minutes.

Please do not confuse Quick Quaker with ordinary "quick" oats. Only Quaker can give you the incomparable Quaker flavor and rich nutrition. In large family size packages. Never in bulk. All packages of Quaker cereals contain coupons with which you can get valuable premiums.

DUAL DRIVE FOR FUNDS IS PLANNED

Armistice Period Committee and Red Cross Secure Support From Citizens

City's Objective $20,000; Aims of Organizations Told at Government House.

Preparations for a joint drive for the provincial organization of the Canadian Red Cross and the Armistice Period Committee were undertaken at Government House yesterday, when leading citizens and representatives of public organizations gathered at the first general meeting for the campaign. Victoria's objective was announced as $20,000.

Fred Landsberg was elected chairman of the drive, with R. F. Taylor as treasurer. R. Hayward, M.P.P., was named chairman of the finance committee. Cases for both the Canadian Red Cross and for the Armistice Period Committee were presented by Sir Richard Lake and Sir Percy Lake respectively who stated that there was no friction between the two bodies, which were both working for the benefit of the same type of people.

Volunteers offered their assistance in the collection of money for the drive. Mayor Ansonb in opening the meeting.

"This year it is hoped to have a joint campaign for the disabled veterans and for the Red Cross branches throughout the province," he stated, explaining that the two bodies were working in conjunction.

On election to the chairmanship, Mr. Landsberg stated he had found a lack of funds for the outposts of the Red Cross was seriously hampering its work.

He noted that both the Red Cross and Armistice Period Committee organizations were working for similar types of men.

An objective of $20,000 had been fixed for Victoria, Mr. Landsberg said. Many pensioners were receiving insufficient money, he declared, saying that many soldiers had been given their discharges as "fit" in their hurry to get home, whereas they should have had their disabilities listed.

WORK SKETCHED
The work of the Armistice Period was sketched by Sir Percy Lake. The body in charge of this was represented by delegates from all ex-service organizations in the city, he stated, saying that they were working for the benefit of their less fortunate comrades.

The organization sold poppies and poppy wreaths which it bought from the Red Cross workshop here. About $1,500 was paid for these last year to the badly disabled war veterans in the shop, he stated.

Sir Percy told of the uses of this money entrusted to the committee by the public referring to several touching cases, some of which were aggravated by the lack of pensions.

Widows of soldiers were also helped during the time which they were securing their pensions, Sir Percy declared.

RED CROSS AIMS
On behalf of the Provincial Red Cross, Sir Richard Lake outlined the aims and objects of his organization. Since the war the Victoria Red Cross Workshop had done everything in its power to assist afflicted returned men.

At Tranquille and Escondido the Red Cross was carrying on good work. Unless money was forthcoming these services would have to be discontinued, the speaker said.

He referred to the work of nursing outposts in British Columbia, noting that his organization contributed a nurse, bedding and other materials to these institutions. Eventually, he noted, the outposts became self-supporting. He referred to incidents in the founding of these and stated a request had been made for another in the north.

The Junior Red Cross, a feature started in Canada, was one of the finest organizations for the strengthening of the senior body, Sir Richard observed before touching upon the rules observed by this body.

Last year, on the prairies, branches of this organization raised $24,000 for the Crippled Children's Relief Fund, Sir Richard said.

LAST YEAR'S WORK
During the last twelve months branches in British Columbia contributed $1,100 to assist crippled children, he continued.

Lieutenant-Governor Bruce paid high tribute to the work of Fred Landsberg, congratulating him on his election to the chair.

During his trip through the Peace River, he had visited the Red Cross Hospital there, His Honor stated. It was a link between the north and south of the province, he said, adding that Vancouver and Victoria were contributing largely to its maintenance. The institution was becoming self-supporting, he added.

In closing he expressed his appreciation of the explanations of Sir Richard and Sir Percy Lake of their own organizations, and wished the drive every success.

Among those who volunteered to assist in collections were: D. J. Aston, Comte de Suzannet, Col. Goodland, H. E. Beasley, A. J. Watson, Despard Twigg, Commander Singsby, Col. A. W. R. Wilby, Col. V. A. Phillips, Col. Sharland, Major Kirkpatrick-Crockett, Reeve Crouch, Major Ansonb, G. H. Stevens, Major Longstaff, Capt. J. C. F. Money, Mrs. John Nairn, B. C. Nicholas, Mrs. P. B. Scourah, representing the Women's Canadian Club, and P. B. Fowler, representing the Men's Canadian Club.

Some of the organizations represented at the meeting were the Armistice Period Committee, the Red Cross, the Army and Navy Veterans, the Usadians, the Real Estate Board, the Naval Veterans, the Pro Patria Branch of the Canadian Legion, the Veterans of France, the Britannia Branch of the Canadian Legion and the United Services.

Present at yesterday's meeting were: His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor, Miss MacKenzie, Rt. Rev. C. V. Schofield, Bishop of Columbia, and Mrs. Schofield, Mayor Ansonb, Reeve Crouch, Sir Percy Lake, Sir Richard Lake, Sir Frank Barnard, Col. H. T. Goodland, Mrs. Pooley, Mr. and Mrs. P. F. Curtis, Mrs. Booth, Tuberville Veterans' Association, Mrs. H. P. Thorpe of the W. A. Pro Patria Branch, Commander C. R. Singsby, Naval Veterans' Branch, C. L. H. E. S. S., Dr. H. E. Young, H. P. Thorpe, secretary, Pro Patria Branch of the Canadian Legion, M. Kirkpatrick-Crockett, president of the Real Estate Board of Victoria, John Blair, district council, Canadian Legion; P. B. Fowler, Canadian Club; H. E. Beasley; J. W. Spencer; Major F. V.

New Ambition For All Past Forty

Says Vigor, Energy, Ability and Healthy Vitality Should Not Be Confined to Youthful Days

Most people, from childhood, carelessly disregard and neglect their nerves. At forty, or thereabouts, they begin to pay the penalty. They lose ambition, life's youthful pleasures seem to pall, they tire easily, can't concentrate, have fits of blues and tremblings, get nervous headaches or dyspepsia and lose their pep and full, firm grip on life.

Depleted nerve force is dangerous, and nerve prostration awaits those who disregard its early warning. But now, thanks to modern medical science, nerve force may easily, safely and quickly be brought back to normal so that men and women of forty, fifty, sixty or even older may again enjoy the youthful nerve strength, vigor and energy of half their age.

A preparation known as Erbac (double strength) is now being stocked and highly recommended by leading druggists everywhere. Not a cure-all, it does not treat or habit forming stimulant, but a positive nerve food and vitalizing agent. A really "safe" use of Erbac (double strength) is guaranteed to bring a tremendous increase in nerve force and energy in any man or woman past forty, or its cost will promptly be refunded.

No fairer offer was ever made. To prove you can be young—stay young—strong—vital—costs you but 10 cents a day. If you succeed—not a penny if you fail. Have you the courage to make the test? Then ask your druggist for a sealed package of double strength Erbac and begin to-day. (Adv.)

Makes "Left-Overs" Deliciously Tasty

The modern housewife supplies any deficiency of nutriment in hashes, meat pies, croquettes and other made-up dishes by slicing an Oxo Cube or two into the dish when preparing it.

All meat dishes are more savoury, too—more tasty—as well as nourishing, when Oxo is added. Oxo is the goodness of prime lean beef concentrated in the most convenient form.

PIONEER TROOP PLANS TO AID POOR CHILDREN

Boy Scouts to Operate Toy
Shop For Needy; Recruits
May Join on Friday

The first Victoria Pioneer Troop held its regular meeting at headquarters on Quadra Street last Friday. A great number of boys turned out to the meeting, along with many new members who were accepted in the troop. Boys are showing a great liking for the organization which offers them an up-to-date, clean, and with all sorts of games including badminton, ping-pong and volley-ball. There is also a large reading room and library where the boys spend as much of their time as they wish. Each boy has a key to the headquarters and may go there any time through the week to read or play games.

Parents wishing their sons to obtain real friends, clean, upright, honest and trustworthy, may visit any Friday evening between 7 and 9 o'clock, and thus get an insight into the splendid work which has been accomplished in the Pioneer. Splendid instructors for these work have been secured. A doctor is willing to teach the boys first aid and health rules. Instruction periods are short on Friday evening as a good part of the time is spent in games. There is a small amount of drill each evening, short "pow-wow" by the chief, a lively camp fire scene which includes singing, story telling, instruction on tracking, and short skits which each patrol puts on each evening. Plans are being made for a big Halloween ball for October 31. Any parents interested are invited to attend. Anyone wishing to attend is asked to phone 57011, O'Brien, so that plenty of seats may be secured. Boys ranging in age from thirteen up are welcome to visit the club and join the troop. Boys wishing to join should attend the meeting this Friday, as it will be the last chance for new members to join this organization. Any boy or girl who has old or unused toys, dolls, books, etc., is asked to phone 57011 and leave their name and address, and a pioneer will call for the toys. The toy shop will start a toy shop not later than October 31. The toy shop will be open for public inspection December 15.

Headquarters are located on Quadra Street directly opposite the new Cathedral.

CABINET WINS VOTE IN DIET OF PRUSSIA

Motion Designed to Oust
Braun Coalition Fails on Division

Berlin, Oct. 16.—A communist motion of no confidence in the Prussian Cabinet was defeated in the Diet today by a vote of 233 to 198.

The defeat of the non-confidence motion helps to clarify the situation in Reich politics because the Communist party voted solidly for the Prussian Social Democrat-Centrist-Democratic coalition headed by Otto Braun, Prussian Premier.

The government bloc showed it would not be lured away from the Social Democrats, as the National Socialists had demanded and as the People's and Economic Parties would prefer.

As there had been frequent conferences between the Socialist Premier, Chancellor Brüning and President von Hindenburg during the last few days, it has been expected generally that the Social Democrats in the Reichstag would, under Premier Braun's influence, save the Premier Cabinet from a fall when a non-confidence motion should threaten that body.

MOUNT DOUGLAS ROAD OPPOSED

Native Sons of B.C. Seek to Prevent Desecration of Park

The resolution urged the preservation of the native forest in that area and opposed any further desecration of park property. It will be forwarded to the provincial authorities.

D. Hunter, who attended the meeting, gave an account of his recent holiday in the British Isles and Europe where he was described by F. Waller, who toured the interior during the summer.

Metchozin

Mrs. Metchozin has returned from Parksville, where she was the guest of Mrs. Wilcox and addressed the Parksville Women's Institute at the celebration of its fifteenth anniversary. Mrs. Metchozin urged the importance of collecting and preserving the records of the pioneers of the district.

ARTIFICIAL SILK EXHIBITION

British artificial silk goods will be held from February 16 to 21 next in the Royal Albert Hall, London.

For the benefit of the trade and overseas buyers in particular, the scope of the exhibition has been widened to coincide with the British Industries Fair organized by the Department of Overseas Trade at Olympia, London, and the Birmingham Chamber of Commerce at Castle Bromwich, Birmingham. It is, therefore, certain that as at no other time throughout the year
such a large number of buyers, or such a comprehensive display of fabrics
and textiles in general, as will be in London on the third week in February next. At no other time can a visit to London be so profitably made by buyers as during that week.

Like its predecessors the forthcoming exhibition will provide buyers with an opportunity of examining the largest and most comprehensive assortment of fabrics made wholly or in part of artificial silk, which has ever been assembled under one roof. The exhibits will cover artificial silk from the yarn
to the finished fabric.

The mannequin stage, which has always been the pivot of these exhibitions, has been redesigned and enlarged, so as to provide a still more effective space for the display of garments. Three parades will take place
each day when garments of all kinds
will be exhibited on living models.
Arrangements are being made for one or more of the parades each day, to be opened by a leading actress, who will wear a frock made of British artificial silk.

A special invitation is extended to buyers from overseas. Cards of invitation are being issued to members of the textile trade throughout the world.
The British Trade Commission has also been supplied with admission cards for those wishing to attend the exhibition, and will furnish cards to further particulars upon application to him at 80 West Hastings Street, Vancouver.

DAILY HEALTH SERVICE

SKIN ERUPTIONS OFTEN ARE DISEASE SIGNALS

By DR. MORRIS FISHBURN

It has been said again and again
that the skin is the mirror of the body. There are numerous diseases affecting the human being as a whole
in which eruptions appear on the skin
as one of the signs of the disturbance.

In typhoid fever, there is an eruption
which appears on the abdomen;
chest and back from the seventh to the ninth day. In pneumonia the form of blister that is called a fever sore occurs around the mouth in forty per cent of the cases.

Tuberculosis has all sorts of manifestations upon the skin, as does also the more serious diseases. Indeed, so frequent and so varied are the skin manifestations of these two diseases that medical students are instructed again and again to look for other manifestations of tuberculosis and of syphilis whenever a skin eruption not easily diagnosed is seen.

In scarlet fever, the eruption appears at the end of the first or the beginning of the second day of the disease. It is just seen on the neck and chest and rapidly spreads to other parts of the body. The eruption of scarlet fever has the name of the disease indicates, is a bright scarlet.

In chicken-pox, the eruption appears within the first twenty-four hours and rapidly develops into little blister-like spots, mostly upon the trunk. These come out in crops over a period of several days.

In measles the patient usually breaks out on the third or the fourth day with dark red velvety spots on the face and these rapidly spread over the trunk and the extremities. One of the signs of measles are bluish white specks surrounded by a red ring which can be seen in strong daylight on the lining of the cheeks and lips. These are known as koplik spots.

There are many industries in which the use of chemicals will produce strange swellings on the hands and splashing sometimes results in similar marks upon the skin elsewhere on the body. Almost invariably any serious disease of the blood manifests itself
by a change in the appearance of the skin.

Wonderful Singing and Dancing at Royal Victoria
Theatre; Repeated To-night

Comtesse Jean de Suzanet Appears as Guest Soloist in Vocal Group

By G. J. D.

Not for many an evening has a Victoria audience displayed such animation as at the Royal Victoria Theatre
yesterday evening, when the Royal Russian Chorus appeared in the first of two night programmes. The response to the contrasting, varied and unusual numbers was unmistakable,
the hearty applause resounding from all parts of the house. The appearance, too, of the singers in their national dress, the women in gorgeous costumes, the men in uniform, added much to the attractiveness of the organization. These were distinctly pleasing and particularly appropriate. The conductor, Princess Agnaya Slaviansky,
also added charm to the "setting,"
and was no less gorgeously costumed,
blazing with jewels.

VARIED PROGRAMME

Besides the choral numbers, there were soprano, tenor and baritone solos, Russian dancing, and a vocal number accompanied by a Balalaika sextette.
Instruments similar in tone to the mandoline and guitar.

The chorus will give a different programme this evening and, let it be said, that not to hear this Royal Russian Chorus is to miss an opportunity of listening to some really wonderful singing. Such diminutiveness and

"Y" Will Enter Two Teams This Season
In Badminton Loop

Two teams will represent the Y.M.C.A. in the Lower Island Badminton League. It was announced by W. B.
Witter, president of the club, this morning. The first team, it was understood, would be virtually the same as that which carried the association's colors last year.

Organization was completed in the Y.M.C.A. club Saturday evening, when officers for the coming year were elected.

Mr. Witter was returned to his post at the head of the body, while Miss Beth Campbell was named vice-president. E. Kidd was re-elected secretary with M. Bamford treasurer and Gertrude Hickey assistant treasurer.
Miss D. Lea, Miss E. Sivers and W.
V. Leigh were appointed to the playing committee.

planismos have seldom, if ever, been heard on local concert platforms, and the singers lit up their voices as from their very souls. It is inspiring and tremendously appealing. Among the men singers is a remarkable bass who at times "reaches" low A. He has been with the company for many years.

PERFECT ENSEMBLE

The ensemble is well-nigh perfect,
the result of intelligent direction and keen rehearsal, and in accent, light and shade, rhythm, and phrase, all showing pleasant even the most fastidious responsiveness, flexibility and unanimity there lie many object lessons,
and if there exist any defects at all
they are dominated by their virtues.
Among the many numbers those finding most favor were the opening number, "What the Flowers of the Steppes Told Me"; the well-known and often performed "Volga Boatman Song," "Awaiting My Sweetheart," the men's chorus in "My Dear Slavonic Home,"
in which were baritone and tenor solos excellently well sung; "Kalinka, Kal-inka," The Trepak; "Russian National Dance Song," where the choir rose to sublime heights chorally; the
"Two Polish Songs," (Chopin-Monushko); the Koha, accompanied by Ukrainian instruments; "Ol' Man River"
and the "Hungarian Song and Dance,"
in which the baritone again maintained
the favorite impression he had made.

THE SOLOISTS

The soloist, Mademoiselle Mara Slav-iansky, daughter of the conductor, who also acted as accompanist to the choruses with distinction, made a splendid impression. The "Baccato Song" was a fine achievement, and
there is no doubting the earnestness,
sincerity and perception that permeates
her delightful singing. She was brought to the platform again and again.

The guest soloist was Jacqueline Rostal (Comtesse Jean de Suzanet),
a local enthusiastic amateur. She sings
most engagingly and possesses a clear,
splendid impression. The "Baccato Song" was a fine achievement, and
there is no doubting the earnestness,
sincerity and perception that permeates
her delightful singing. She was brought to the platform again and again.

RUSSIAN DANCES

The last group was given over to some Russian dances, first in all.
"Along the Petrograd Street," an ancient Russian song, accompanied by the Balalaika instruments; Ukrainian and Gypsy dances; "The Snow Maiden," music by the Russian composer, Rim-ski Korsakov; and the "Russian Dances and Finales." These were all executed in agile fashion, the last particularly,
the whirl and flash of the men

dancers simply bewildering and sweeping the audience off their feet.
The Snow Maiden dance was charming in its simplicity and was executed
by five of the members of the chorus,
one of whom also captivated the audience in her solo dances.

The Princess, who, by the way, does much of her conducting when facing the audience, besides leading her forces with authoritative gestures, brilliantly accompanied her daughter, and the other soloists of the chorus.

"Y" NATIONAL

the directorate and staff, followed by noon, October 25, from 3 to 6 o'clock.

Harvest Concert
At St. Martin's
Is Successful

The harvest concert at St. Martin's in the Fields on Monday evening was a great success, both in attendance
and financially. Canon H. W. O. Stocken, and although not so vigorous.

in his opening address, gave everyone
a hearty welcome. The programme included: Song by Sunday school
scholars; recitation, Betty Clegg; song, Mrs. F. Holmes; song, Sunday school
scholars; piano selection, T. Thompson;
sketch, Mr. and Mrs. Mayo; piano selection, Miss M. Ishler; recitation,
"When the Ship Comes In," Jean Fisher; song, Mr. Pearson, church organist. Mr. Hollins caused much amusement by his rendering of "Excelsior," imitating a one-armed man.
Major Hibben started the auctioneering
of fruit and vegetables until the arrival of Frank Tupman, who interspersed his auctioneering with jokes, causing much merriment among the audience. The evening concluding with God Save the King.

Dr. O. M. Jones Chapter Met—The
regular monthly meeting of the Dr. O.
M. Jones Chapter was held at the home of Mrs. J. W. Hudson on Tuesday evening with the regent, Mrs. W. Ellis, presiding. Routine business was discussed and members are kindly asked to note that arrangements have been made for a rummage sale to be held on Saturday, November 1. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. F. Jordon, Quadra Street.

are as productive as in their native land although not so vigorous.

TO-DAY'S GRAIN MARKETS

By Branson, Brown & Co. Ltd.
Winnipeg, Oct. 16.—Wheat: The action of the market to-day was very disappointing, and after opening firm from 1 to 1 1/2 c higher, based on the cables which were considerably stronger than due, the market gradually eased off, prices finally getting about 2 1/4 c under the close last night.

The selling in the local pit was largely by way of liquidation, and buyers of the past two days. The pool sold early some October around 2c, but nothing later. The buyers were the local crowd on the scale down, but the wheat was not passing into strong hands. Export sales overnight were reported as very small, but the general belief is that a somewhat larger volume in Manitoba is being worked than what is being reported.

The cash market was a dull affair with a very small business passing. There was a little shipping demand for No. 1 hard and No. 2 northern, and spreads on these were quarter better, due to light offerings, but otherwise there was nothing doing. Argentine had further rains, and crop conditions in that country are now said to be extremely favorable with a big crop on the verge of serious deterioration taking place during the next two months. The same may be said of the Australian crop.

The weather in western Canada is decidedly unfavorable, being cold and stormy with snow practically covering Saskatchewan and Alberta, and especially the northern half of both provinces where the crop is not threshed. There seems to be very little hope at present of higher levels, and upturns are only used to sell wheat. Winnipeg futures closed on the bottom, 2 1/4 c down for the day.

Shall the Widower With Four Children Marry a 16-Year-Old Girl?—Modern Wife Who Would Become a Clinging Vine Again—Man Who Tells

DEAR MISS DIX—I am a widower, thirty-eight years old, and have four children from seven to sixteen years old. I am very much in love with a high school girl sixteen years old. Is this girl old enough to realize what she is doing if she marries me and would she help make a home for my children? Would she be liable to change when she got older? I live at home with my mother and sisters, who take care of my children. What should I do?

TRIOLED WIDOWER.

ANSWER: Any man with children who even thinks about marrying a sixteen-year-old schoolgirl and putting her at the head of his household has so little sense and judgment that he should be committed at once to a home for the incurably feeble-minded before he can put his mad plan into execution.

Why, Mr. Widower, you haven't any right to commit a crime like that. A single man, with no one but himself to consider, may take any foolhardy risks he pleases in marriage. On his own head is the result of his folly. But a widower is not free to follow his own fancy in picking out a wife. He has given hostages to fortune and he must consider his children's welfare even before his own.

For he puts his children's lives in the hands of their stepmother and not only their happiness but the kind of men and women they make depends upon the way she treats them and whether she develops what is best in their characters or warps it. So many girls make unfortunate marriages while they are very young in order to get away from a cruel stepmother. So many boys run away from homes that stepmothers have made a place of torment to them, and their fathers are to blame for it.

No widower with children has a right to marry a woman with a blemished past who will give his children low ideals and teach them a loose morality. No widower has a right to marry a hard and stern woman who will show his children no tenderness or affection. And certainly no man has a right to marry a child and put her over other children.

The role of the stepmother is a hard one at best. It isn't easy for any woman to be a substitute mother. The stepmother is called upon to do the ceaseless work of a mother and to make the unending sacrifices that every mother must make. She must cook and wash and mend and sew for the children. She must watch by their sick beds. She must put up with their noise and dirt and tempers. She must do without the things she wants that they may have the clothes and amusements that other children have and she has not the love for the children that their mother would have and that would lighten the labor and make the sacrifices sweet.

And she would be more than human if she had not always a little jealousy of her husband's love for this other woman's children. The very carousen that he bestows upon them, his pride in them, his bragging about them that she would adore if they were her children is a dagger in her heart when it is another woman's children.

So it takes a big woman, a wise woman, a woman of infinite self-control to make a good stepmother, and no sixteen-year-old girl can possibly have these qualities. She is too young, too immature, too ignorant of life to cope with the situation. She has too little philosophy to even endure it.

So, if you marry this child you will rue the day. She and your children will quarrel like cats and dogs and your home will be a bedlam.

Anyway, no sixteen-year-old girl is fit for marriage. She is too young to know what love is. All that she is capable of is just a passing fancy, a romantic urge that will pass in a day or a week or a year. Why, she will probably think herself in love with half a dozen different boys before she is grown and when she is grown she may want an entirely different sort of man from you.

She is at the playtime of life and it doesn't take any prophet to tell that if you marry her and put her down to the hard work of taking care of four children she will tire of it and throw up the job within six months. You see, she will want to dance and have good times and pretty clothes and tied around just as your sixteen-year-old daughter does. Does she want to be glad down with a family and a husband?

So use a little commonsense. If you want to be happy, marry in your own class, some woman around thirty who will have the dignity and poise to command the respect of your children and wisdom to deal with them and who is ready to settle down and make a home.

DOROTHY DIX.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX—I am a married woman, thirty-five years of age, with a devoted, charming husband and an equally devoted fifteen-year-old son. I am not domestic by nature and it was I who conceived the brilliant idea of resuming my work as teacher as soon as my son was old enough to go to kindergarten, which I did over the bitter opposition of my husband. There were no terrible results of this step. We adjusted ourselves to the situation, the youngster is above the average mentally and morally, and I have succeeded in my work until I command a very attractive salary.

But now I am sick of the whole thing. My husband has been as faithful as hard-working and as attentive as anyone could be, but he hasn't advanced as he is capable of doing. He has come to lean on my judgment. I can manage money better than he can. In a word, he is dependent on me instead of my being dependent on him. My old masterful lover is gone and I feel like the mother of two sons instead of a wife and a mother.

My son is accustomed to a certain standard of life and is at an age when a change would cut him off from the very things that seem the most important to him. If it were not for sacrificing him I would start all over and throw all the responsibility on my husband and rise or fall with him. I can't give the youngster that sort of a deal, but if I had the same situation that I had ten years ago I would surely stay in my home.

MARY.

ANSWER: And if you did you would be writing me now about what a mistake you made in not going on and following your career and giving your child better conditions than his father had been able to do.

Listen, sister, women are never satisfied, because women always want to have their cake and eat it, too. You felt that you could do something better than wash dishes and sweep floors and that putting a woman of your intelligence and education to doing a housemaid's job was like putting a hundred-horsepower engine to lift a ten-horsepower load. So you went back to the work that you are fitted for and that is congenial and you earned enough money to have the things you wanted instead of having to do without them and, everything has been comfortable and pleasant and yet you are miserable because you are not a clinging vine. Sounds silly and ungrateful to me.

All of this cave-man stuff which you seem to crave is hokey. The modern woman may think that she still longs to be dragged around by the hair of her head and have some great, strong man order her about, but she would simply loathe it and rush to the divorce court with a plea of cruel and inhuman treatment if she got it. Women don't enjoy being dependent now any more than men do. And they don't want to be bossed and they want to be treated as equals and that seems to be about the way your husband treats you.

As for your thinking that you have slowed him down because you have helped to support the family, I doubt that. Of course, if he had knocked off work and had become a loafer and a parasite, that would indicate that he was a poor-spirited creature who would let his wife support him, but your husband has done his part faithfully, and if he has not achieved any spectacular success it is just because it was not in him. Nature doesn't make every man a go-getter. The fact that his wife is working is much more likely to be a spur to a man's ambition than it is a hindrance.

So I think you are taking a very morbid view of a modern situation. Wake up and see that the 1930 model wife is a man's partner.

DOROTHY DIX.

DEAR MISS DIX—Is a man to be trusted who talks about his wife and says mean things about her? Will he talk about the girl he is friendly with?

ANSWER:

The man who will talk about one woman who trusts and loves him will talk about another. Beware of the man who is always whining about his wife and asking you to sympathize with him because he made a mistake in marriage. Let him tell his troubles to the divorce court.

DOROTHY DIX.

"LET'S GO NATIVE,"
WITH JACK OAKIE,
HERE AT CAPITOL

"Let's Go Native," now at the Capitol Theatre, has plot and action—it moves from a modiste's salon in New York to the streets of the same city, to a big, beautiful mansion, to an island in the tropics, to a private yacht. There is a central love affair between Jeanette MacDonald and James Hall. There is a secondary love affair between Jack Oakie and Kay Francis. There is the menace supplied from several sources.

But plot and action are of little consequence in the wicker of laughs and roars that pitches and tosses this splendid show along to one grand hilarious tidal-wave finale.

"Let's Go Native" is the work of George Marion Jr. and Percy Heath, the men who wrote Charles "Buddy" Rogers' smash-hit, "Safety in Numbers." The songs—"Joe Jazz," "Let's Go Native," "It Seems to Be Spring," "I've Got a Yen For You," and "My Mad Moment."

Marion wrote the lyrics. The melodies were composed by Richard A. Whitting, the capable musician who wrote "My Sweetest Than Sweet," "The Prep Step," "Alma Mammy," "My Future Just Passed" and many other sure-fire hits.

MURRAY KINNELL
SUPPORTS ARLISS
AT THE DOMINION

Murray Kinnell, who plays the part of Ventnor, the lawyer, in "Old English," George Arliss' latest Vitaphone production for Warner Bros., now playing at the Dominion Theatre, was on the legitimate stage for twenty-three years, during which he supported such famous stars as Arliss himself, Ethel Barrymore, Glen Terry, Doris Keane and Maurice Moscovitch. Yet after completing only one picture, Kinnell admits without hesitation that he much prefers picture work.

Kinnell, who was born in London in 1889, made his stage debut in 1907 under Florence Glossop Harris, daughter of Sir Augustus Harris of the famous Drury Lane Theatre. This began a long career which was interrupted only by the World War, during which, as a member of the London Scottish, a part of the 60th Division, he assisted General Allenby in his historic conquest of Palestine.

AMAZING PICTURE OF ANIMAL LIFE IN AFRICA COMING

Picture-goers of Victoria will have a chance to see a famous picture, "Ingagi," which has been discussed to a greater extent than anything perhaps, save prohibition!

"Ingagi" is a film of wonders, and will be shown at the Coliseum Theatre next week. It evokes controversy by its strange and fantastic features and ends with the portrayal of a tribal legend of the Congo that is weird in the extreme.

Never before has there been an animal picture with one-half the amazing and fascinating attraction of "Ingagi."

THRILLING RACE THROUGH RAPIDS SEEN AT COLUMBIA

One of the most thrilling episodes of "Tiger Rose," the Warner Bros. picture now at the Columbia Theatre, is a race through the rapids. This thrilling feat is performed by Grant Withers and Lupe Velez in an attempt to escape from pursuing Northwest Mounted police, led by Monte Blue.

The denouement of the story is highly unusual—one of the factors which made it one of the great New York stage successes.

The rapids scenes, representing the Hudson Bay country, were actually taken in California. Every precaution was taken to safeguard the lives of the actors in the picture not only by studio officials, but by state authorities, as there was, of course, the chance of the canoe overturning. Such facilities would not have been available in the wilds of the North. Director George Fitzmaurice points out.

"FLORODORA GIRL" AT THE COLISEUM WITH MISS DAVIES

The cycle of fashions has returned to the period when the girls were dressed in lace and plumes.

Already the long gloves have been adopted, along with the long skirts and three-quarter length sleeves. The hair is also being worn in chignons in place of in the boyish bob.

OLD STYLES REVIVED
At the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios, too, the girls have been wearing plumes in their hats and carrying long parasols. In this instance, however, they were wearing costumes of the days of "The Florodora Girl" which, as Marion Davies' last starring picture, is being shown at the Coliseum Theatre to-day.

GENTLEMAN FARMER HAS LEADING ROLE AT THE PLAYHOUSE

Billy Bevan in private life is a gentleman farmer and outdoor man. As Lieut. Trotter, a delightful character in "Journey's End," he finds a bright spring morning in the trenches a reminder of his garden at home and his "olly-locks" eight feet tall they were one year. "Took a photo of them—would you like to see it?" he asks Lieut. Osborne, as he dips the snapshot out of his pocket.

It is Bevan who tells in "Journey's End," the R. C. Sheriff was play that he being seen at the Playhouse Theatre to-day, about one spring morning when he was coming out of the salient. It was at the time that this Boche was sending over a lot of phosgene gas.

"We were scared of it," the lieutenant confesses. "All of a sudden we smelt that funny sweet smell and a fellow shouted: 'Gas!' And we all put on our masks. And then I spotted what it was—a blinkin' my tree! All out in bloom, growin' beside the path! We did feel dilly puttin' on gas masks because of a may tree!"
